EARTHWORK IS PROCEEDING on 33 acres of land immediately behind the existing Belle Glade Municipal Marina and Recreation Area. Work on the present project is estimated at being 32 percent complete in preparation for raising the level of Lake Okeechobee.

Marina expands as lake rises

BELLE GLADE—With approximately 32 percent of the earthwork completed on the new section of the expanded Belle Glade Municipal Marina, the US Army Corps of Engineers is seeking final approval for raising the regulation schedule for Lake Okeechobee from 15.5 to 17.5 feet above mean sea level.

Little opposition has been heard concerning the revised schedule in three public meetings held in Clewiston, Miami and Stuart and a temporary permit was granted May 10.

Col. Donald A. Wisdom, Jacksonville District Engineer said last week he expects recommendations for final approval will be submitted by the end of May.

The Lake Okeechobee level is currently at 14.69 feet above mean sea level, one inch above the old scheduled stage. Operating under the old 14.5 to 16 feet regulation, some of the water now being saved would have been released to the Water Conservation Areas or to tidewater via the Caloosahatchee River and the St. Lucie Canal.

Col. Wisdom said the Audubon Society and the US Fish and Wildlife Service have requested a monitoring program for the vegetation and fish and wildlife populations in the lake.

Conditions for future review and modification of the lake schedule have been proposed and they are all being considered at this time, Wisdom said.

The Martin County Conservation Alliance has proposed a seven point program to reduce discharges and turbidity in the St. Lucie Estuary. Wisdom said many of their suggestions will be adopted in the new schedule.

In the meantime, construction is proceeding on a 33-acre site on Tory Island, where the South Florida Water Management District is expanding the Belle Glade Marina as part of an agreement between the city and the District.

Lee Brown, of the WMD's

Recreation Department, said approximately 32 percent of the earthwork has been completed on phase one of the project. Brown said the work, which began last November, is expected to be completed in January.

Once the earthwork is done, Brown said further development, including the construction of water and sewer systems, a new pavilion and approximately 100 new campsites, will continue.

"We're probably looking at the completion of the first phase construction and at least some occupancy in about two years," Brown said.

Once the new area is completed, work will begin on raising the level of the city's existing facility at the marina to take it out of the danger of flooding when the lake's level is raised.

PBJC auditorium plans take giant step

BELLE GLADE—Plans for a 500-seat auditorium at Palm Beach Junior College-Glades campus took a giant step forward last week when the auditorium was included in the state legislature's budget for the coming fiscal year.

State Representative Tom Lewis said the auditorium was one of three projects he and State Senator Philip Lewis had worked to include in the joint conference report. Lewis said some money had been cut off the original request but $586,747 had been earmarked for the auditorium. Two other state grants coming to the local area include $946,000 for a health and social services center to be built behind the Glades Office Building and $150,000 for expansion of housing facilities at Glades Correctional Institution.

The auditorium is being planned as a community facility and Dr. Cecil Conley, provost of the Glades campus, said plans call for its use by the college, the city and any local groups which have a need for an auditorium.

Lewis said Tuesday some opposition had developed in legislative appropriations committees, both in the senate and the house of representatives, but the auditorium would be in the report to be presented to both houses.

"We had to push like the devil for it," he said. "It seems like everybody has a 'junior college.' Several of them still haven't developed their permanent campuses and they didn't want to hear about extra facilities."

"(But) if it's approved by the legislature, we have the money and I can't see any reason why it shouldn't be approved," Lewis said.

Lewis explained the process by saying that when it comes to drawing up a budget, the house of representatives makes a budget while the senate draws up another one. "Each house rejects the other's proposed budget and we meet in a joint conference to draw up a compromise budget. Once that comes out of conference, it's approved by the two houses."

Asked the chances of the conference report being rejected by either of the two houses, Lewis recalled last year's legislature, when the report was rejected and the legislators wound up meeting for another three weeks in an effort to come up with a budget.

"But that's not going to happen this year," he said.

In another project Lewis has been working on for the past

Besides the increase in the number of campsites, other improvements intended for the area include a complete water and sewer system, expanded recreational facilities, more boat ramps, a pre-stressed concrete bridge between the two sections of the marina and day use facilities.

Coincidentally, the state Department of Transportation has placed the Rim Canal Bridge in the five year program for replacement and the old swing bridge could be replaced any time after about two years.

The Water Management District is building the new camping facilities as a result of an

Black Gold Jubilee will be annual

BELLE GLADE—Tentative plans for an annual spring festival growing out of the city's 50th anniversary celebration were made last week and the annual celebration was named the Black Gold Jubilee in honor of the area's unique muck soil.

Members of what will now be known as the Black Gold Jubilee Committee chose the name because it offers a name not in use anywhere else and it refers to the agricultural base of the community.

The committee changed one name in a suggestion made by J.V. McLeod of 764 S.E. First St. in a contest which ran all last month. McLeod suggested the festival should be known as the Black Gold Festival.

The name was chosen from several entries made during the contest, including such ideas as Salad Bowl Fling, Spring Jubilee, Belle Glade Jubilee, Founders Day, Belle Glade Blowout, Custard Apple Festival and Harvest Bowl Festival.

After some discussion, the committee decided the Jubilee should take place during the last weekend in March and initially will take place on Friday night and all day Saturday.

Another part of the contest involved suggestions concerning the activities of the Jubilee. Committee Chairman Dolly Hand said all the entries checked off activities held during the 50th Anniversary Celebration on April 7-8 and a number of others were included, most being drawn from other annual festivals in the area.

The major activities inherited from the anniversary celebration include a parade, a talent show in variation on the Gong Show included in the April celebration, raft races, a barbecue, fireworks and two dance, one for teens at the city marina and another for adults to be held elsewhere.

Suggestions for new activities were primarily field events designed to fill the time between the raft races and the barbecue at the marina and included a greased pole climb, pie or watermelon eating contests, an egg throwing contest and a tug-of-wars for various age groups.

Other activities which might be adopted and could run simultaneously in other parts of the city than the marina included a golf tournament, a tennis tournament and a softball tournament, a queen contest and an art festival.

Committee secretary Mary Orsenigo said the art festival would offer much in the Jubilee, pointing out a number of other towns which offer sidewalk art festivals which attract large numbers of people.

The people who would be interested in a softball tournament, he said, "probably wouldn't be interested in an art festival, for instance." He said the sports tournaments could probably be handled largely through the city recreation department.

To help pay for the festival, the committee agreed that any club or

Elks hold annual ball

BELLE GLADE—Members of Belle Glade Elks Lodge #1716 will hold their annual inaugural ball from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. Saturday at the lodge on Southeast Avenue E.

Exalted Ruler Don Williams said the ball, which will be open to Elks and their guests, will feature the introduction of new officers of the lodge and its ladies auxiliary to the membership.

Williams said music will be provided by the Marshall Grant Band from the Palm Beaches and those who attend should bring their own bottles. The usual Saturday steak night is scheduled before the ball.

Reservations may be obtained by calling 996-1716.

Bowen, Best Defensive Player trophy winner, Ken Warren, Best Offensive Player, trophy winner, Bill Bailey; 3rd row, Bill Taylor, and Steve Smith.

Living over 900 miles away from one's parents means you don't get to see them as often as you need. And when you do, the world of work prevents us from being together as long as we would like.

That's why I was especially pleased when they arrived safely from Mississippi Thursday afternoon.

My mother Dot continues to insist she's 39...and holding. In truth, she acts more like 25. Even so, that didn't prevent her from thoroughly spoiling sons Derek and Burke.

Everytime Derek even whimpered, she was there to his rescue. Now when he cries, he expects to be picked up and cuddled.

If Burke brought out one of his numerous books, she'd read it to him gratefully. He can't understand why we don't sit with him for hours and pour through "Peter Rabbit" as she did.

She's a rather unique woman. Once the majority of her brood of five were safely out into the world, she went back to school, obtained her Bachelor's, and started teaching art in high school.

But that wasn't enough. Now she's back in school with only a quarter or so to go for a Masters. I sometimes wonder if all that is worth the $700 yearly raise the State of Mississippi grants its teachers for furthering their education.

Somewhere in between teaching, coffee socials, showing her art in every gallery, bridge parties, and other attention getters, she manages to counsel and welcome students into her home.

Going back to Mississippi is like a scene from "Welcome Back Kotter."

My father, B.F., is altogether different. He's dedicated and hard-working and when he sets out after something, he does so with bulldog tenacity.

When he comes to Florida, that means he wants to fish. And nothing less than full-time casting will be satisfactory.

But B.F. is not a deep sea angler. That I discovered when he braved the waves at the mouth of the Palm Beach Inlet and inquired as to what species we were after. Looking over the side in the clear blue depths, he asked where we were heading. I pointed out a commercial snapper boat three or four miles away on the third reef and he noted that would be a heck of a long swim back.

But once on the reef and safely into a big snapper, he seemingly forgot all about the "towering waves and the rather belly-aching Brother Leo" and inquired as to what species we were after. With one more fish safely aboard, he was green around the gills and "feeding the fish" with a sever case of mal de mere and we turned about and came back to port.

Every morning and evening, they were up and fishing before the second cockcrow and when they left Sunday morning, I went back to bed and slept five hours, completely worn out by their enthusiasm.

Which is, perhaps, a sign I am growing no younger and the pace at which I've run up to now may shortly be slowing down somewhat.

It was nice to have them down. I miss them already. But things promise to pick up this weekend when one of the others of the brood, brother Dave, said he'd be in Palm Beach on business and could I pick him up Wednesday night?

Of course I can! In the jamboree Thursday night, they were clearly the winners, blowing LaBelle and Moore Haven off the field 6-0 and 12-0. The Gators possessed the ball only four times and scored three, which isn't bad.

Maybe this points out that the traditional weak spot with the Gators, the offense will be more consistent this coming season. And if that happens, watch out state champions!

Opinion

Black Gold is coin of the realm

Belle Glade's first annual Black Gold Jubilee, when it occurs next March, should be the kind of festival which would appeal to every facet of the community and the kind of event which could work to pull the community closer together.

The name, of course, makes reference to the area's major resource, the muck soil that makes the Glades so unique. Belle Glade is agriculture and the soil is what makes agriculture so successful a venture here.

There's no question but what the black gold in question is the blessing, or fortune, of the area, as indicated on the city's seal, although it also causes most of the problems in the area.

It's an unfortunate fact of life that the word muck has an unpleasant sound in the English language, leaving as negative a feeling as the term "dirt farmer."

Without the muck the area is famous for, there would be no dirt farmers and without farming, Belle Glade would have little to offer the nation in the way of vegetables and sugar cane.

If the vegetables and cane grown in the area aren't exactly essential staples, they certainly offer much to the lifestyle of Americans east of the Mississippi, adding flavor and relish to tables from Miami to Maine.

And if farming isn't one of the more glamorous professions, it's the most essential profession going and serves as the very foundation of civilization throughout the world. It also happens to be one thing we Americans do better than anyone else in the world.

It's regrettable there was even the need for a euphemism for the muck we live by but if a euphemism is needed, black gold is appropriate and Black Gold Jubilee has a certain ring to it.

It's a good name and if the activities next year are as well received as the ones in April which served as the impetus for the annual celebration, the Jubilees could become something worthwhile to look forward to.

As ye sow...

Something scary this way comes...or at least it's trying to. Assistant U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Carol Foreman has come up with an idea by which the government would determine the nutritional needs of the American population and then figure out how much wheat, corn, beef or whatever the nation's farmers should grow to meet those needs.

Add a little for export and a reserve program to the formula and then the government would be able to tell farmers how much of what commodity they could grow.

And if that sounds great on paper, a panacea to solve the problems of farmers who wonder what they should grow to make a profit, just remember it's nothing more than centralized planning.

And if centralized planning sounds good, someone must have already tried it sometime in the past.

They have. They call themselves the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics and they've been importing wheat for the past number of years because in spite of the fact they have some of the best grain growing land in the world, and a lot of it, they can't grow enough to feed themselves.

The United States, on the other hand, despite our poor existing market method called free enterprise, has been exporting grain to the Soviet Union and a few other countries.

The corn may look higher in the other man's field but we've been doing all right for the past 202 years and the farmer has been able to maintain some modicum of freedom to involve himself in the decision making process.

Let's keep it that way.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Kids just don't respect their elders no more. And the worst kind are those who act respectful just waiting for a chance and looking for a soft spot so they can slip it to you.

Take Doug, for instance. Please! Doug is the 14-year old son of my brother-in-law by his first marriage...one of those neat, freckle-faced kids with a changing voice and Innocence with a capital "I" just dripping off his face.

You know, the sneaky kind who says "Sir" every time he says something, like, "Would you care to engage in a game of Hearts, sir?"

Well, I just came off a weekend at my sister's house in Bartow and I took Doug up on Hearts, and poker, and Scrabble, and Clue and maybe, just maybe, I'm gonna find a way to beat him one of these days...play some kind of game called The Cracker Wins.

The whole thing wouldn't have been so bad if Doug and Kelly, my niece (another 14-year old) were just another couple of JD's, complete with overblown cases of acne, foul tempers, black leather jackets and bad breath.

Somebody like that, you could in good conscience rap across the teeth under the pretense of correcting their table manners and while they were recovering, palm the Queen of Spades to be ready for the next hand.

Course with my kinda luck, the young JD would've pulled a switchblade and given me my yearly dose of iron in one swift injection.

As it was, there was even the chance to evade a ruckus. Never was the excuse so Jim (my brother-in-law) was reduced to sitting there whining something to the effect we'd sure like a second crack at the game but we really just didn't have the time, that we really had to go out and wax the cars and waddya mean, it's weird to wax the cars at 11:30 at night.

I'm still wondering what those kids were doing up at that time of night anyway. Seems to me when I was that age, I was sound asleep by 8:30, not up ruining the composure of my elders and betters by beating the pants off them at every game they considered themselves good at.

Not that I'm bitter. I consider myself a good loser. I've been of the persuasion that I'd rather be a lousy winner than a good loser but since I haven't won even the movie Delver during a long and hectic life, I figure I might as well be good at something so I lose losing.

But considering the fact Jim and I are both usually on the losing end of any contest we happen to enter, I'm not sure I really had that idea of a vacation this summer most interesting.

Seems he and the family are going to spend some time up in North Carolina and while they're there, he intends to take Doug and shoot the rapids of the Chocohatchee River in northern Georgia.

For those with short memories for long names, the Chocohatchee is the river where the movie Deliverance was shot and Burt Reynolds got his, but good.

The way I understand it, those are some pretty rapid rapids and with the memory fresh in my mind of Jim grinding his teeth every time Doug threw the black lady down on him in hearts, or scarfed up on all the chips with a full house, not to mention those baleful glances, I wonder...

And while I'm wondering, I also wonder if they've got room for a passenger because I have a candidate who might make a good remake of Deliverance.

Last week, when I happened to mention to a certain ah-h-h friend that the ubersternism goes, that I intended to visit my sister for the weekend, she asked if I had any pictures of my sister and her family.

Sure thing, I said, and briskly whipped out the only picture I happen to have.

Now, there wasn't the slightest reason for the whoop and holler when I showed it to her and commented the boy was my nephew and she'd seen him. The fact he was about six when the picture was taken and 14 when she'd met him had not the slightest bit of humor I could detect, nor did the fact the freshest picture I have of the rest of my family is about 20 years old.

Guess I better forget about that, though. If the so-called friend and Doug ever got together on a trip like that, it'd be Jim who'd need delivering.

Legislative session summed up

Dear Friends:

We are now approaching the last weeks of the 1978 legislative session and I would like to give you a rundown to date, on what we have been doing up here for the past seven weeks.

Incidentally, from our observations, the earliest we will adjourn could be the last of May however, all indications are that we will go the full sixty days and adjourn on June 2 as planned. Basically speaking, this has been a very quiet session but we expect that to come to a halt very shortly as we begin to wind up business here in the Capitol City.

The budget, as in past years, is the top priority. Again this year, I was appointed to the conference committee by the Speaker and we have been working daily to settle the differences between the House and the Senate.

As pointed out in my last newsletter, the total budget for fiscal year 78-79 is approximately $6 billion. The $6 billion is made up from 3 billion general revenue, and $3 billion from trust funds and federal funds.

The difference between the House and the Senate is about $80 million with the largest difference coming in the areas of Health and Rehabilitative Services and Education. We should reach a compromise in conference by May 26.

I am working diligently to keep the dollars appropriated that directly effect my legislative district. I will be able to better identify these dollars as well as the final amount of money appropriated for the entire state, in my session wrap-up. The Speaker also assigned me to a conference committee to resolve the difference in the $138.5 million Public Education, Capital Outlay funds.

There are several pieces of legislation which I feel are of vital importance to you are vitally interested in and I appreciate your letters and phone calls expressing many of these concerns. The following is a brief outline on the status of a few of these bills.

Workman's Compensation—because of the magnitude of this problem, the House Commerce Committee has taken all of the bills relating to this subject and combined them into a committee proposal, addressing the major points involved in each bill. It is expected that before the end of the session, a compromise will be worked out which will help solve many of the problems and burdens placed upon many of you. I will support this proposal as long as there are no substantial changes. I feel we must decrease workman's compensation premiums.

Coastal Zone Management—this is a very complex issue which has passed the House and now awaits action by the Senate. Briefly, this legislation creates the Florida Coastal Management Act of 1978 and directs the Department of Environmental Regulation to submit an application for federal funds.

Governmental Reorganization—this bill creates a Department of Labor which has caused quite a flare with the business industry. I did not support this piece of legislation for the reason that we do not need anymore departments within our present governmental structure. The bill did however pass the House and now awaits action by the Senate.

There are several tax exemption bills being considered this year but as yet, nothing has been finalized. I will give a complete report on these items in my wrap-up at the end of the session.

As many of you are aware, in Habilitation Center holds cookout

BELLE GLADE—Clients and staff members of the Glades Habilitation Center celebrated Memorial Day with an outdoor cookout according to Director Ruth Howard.

Ms. Howard said there were a number of activities such as card playing, ping pong, stumps and tumbling, football and tetherball. Representative of a number of social agencies in the Glades were present and Ms. Howard said she wanted to extend special recognition to LeHarve Young, director of the Adult Education Program at Glades Central, for making the cookout possible.

Charles Hall is graduate

DELAND—A Belle Glade student was among the graduating seniors taking part in the State University commencement exercises on May 21.

Charles W. Hall received a BBA degree in general business administration.

Gail Blissitt graduates

SHAWNEE—Ok. — A Belle Glade student was among 296 graduating seniors taking part in spring commencement ceremonies May 27 at Oklahoma Baptist University here.

Gail Blissitt, daughter of Martha Blissitt of 650 S.E. Ave. F, earned a bachelor of science degree in nursing.

November we will have several articles of the Constitution to vote on. The proposed revision encompasses the subjects of:

Article I - Declaration of Rights—a revision to provide that no person will be deprived of any right, because of sex.

Article III - Legislative—a revision to provide for single member legislative districts, and to establish reapportionment standards and a commission to prepare a reapportionment plan for legislative and congressional districts.

Article IV - Executive—eliminates the existing Cabinet offices in January 1983, namely the offices of Secretary of State, Attorney General, Comptroller, Treasurer, Commissioner of Agriculture and Commissioner of Education.

Article IV - Executive—provides for a five member appointed Public Service Commission with the appointments made by the Governor.

Article VII - Finance and Taxation—provides that property owned by a municipality and held for municipal purposes shall be exempt from taxation; extend the personal property tax exemption to all natural persons and to extend to widowers, the property tax exemption of not less than five hundred dollars. This is a very complex revision.

Article IX - Education—provides that the state board of Education shall be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate. This also provides for a Board of Regents appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

This is a very basic insight into the Constitutional Revision however I thought you would be interested in taking a glance at what lies ahead.

My session wrap-up will be a complete report on the budget, education, transportation and many other various subjects which I know many of you are interested in, and please be assured that I will continue to work in the best interest of my constituency as we approach the end of the 1978 legislative session.

Yours for Better Government.

Sincerely,
Tom Lewis

Because today's medicines are so much more potent and so much more specific, it has become very important that a family choose one pharmacy to fill all their drug needs for both prescription and non-prescription drugs. A family should "shop" for a pharmacy they feel comfortable with in much the same manner they "shop" for a physician or dentist.

We hope you will choose our pharmacy for your family. We are dedicated to your better health and concentrate our efforts toward achieving this goal.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Garden Club visits nursery

BELLE GLADE—Members of the Belle Glade Garden Club recently visited Hartman's Nursery in the Palmdale-Fishing Creek area and viewed the bromeliads, ferns and exotic plants in a natural woodland setting.

The nursery is operated by Robert Hartman, PhD and his father, John Hartman. The place was a modern laboratory and Dr. Hartman, a plant pathologist, takes individual cells or cell clusters and, under appropriate environmental, nutritional and hormonal conditions, can produce millions of identical plants from these cells.

Dr. Hartman explained this is possible because each cell of a plant contains all the genetic information for an entire plant. These test tube plants are genetically identical and are sterile and germ free.

It is possible to go from one cell or cell cluster and produce in excess of a million plants per year. The obvious advantage to this is that they can take rare types of plants and in a short amount of time, make large numbers of them available at a price the middle income consumer can afford.

The club members returned the Hartman's hospitality with an invitation to join them in a picnic lunch on the grounds before returning home.

Cross is honored by Association

PAHOKEE—Bryan F. Cross, branch manager of Everglades Federal Savings and Loan in Pahokee, was honored by the Palm Beach County Chapter of the American Heart Association at their annual meeting and awards dinner May 25 at the Sailfish Club in Palm Beach. Association President, Gary E. Jones, praised Cross for his efforts as chairman of the Commerce and Industry drive in Pahokee. Cross was also installed as a new member of the Association's Board of Directors.

Elected at the meeting to serve as the Heart Association's officers for 1978-79 were: Chairman of the Board, Gary E. Jones, President, H. David Faust, President-Elect, Thomas L. Thornton, First Vice-President, John F. Flanagan, Second Vice-President, William E. Owens, Secretary, J.W. Fogleman and Treasurer, Roger W. Strickland. Together with other Heart Association volunteers and staff they will organize the campaign which traditionally runs for the month of February.

The highest award given by the American Heart Association, the Distinguished Achievement Medal, was awarded to Richard L. Adams, President of the Mall Bank in West Palm Beach and Executive Vice-President of First National Bank in Palm Beach.

Highlights of this year's campaign were the door-to-door Heart Sunday drive which reached $108,000, the Palm Beach Heart Ball and Auction which brought in $204,000, contributions from Pratt-Whitney and IBM employees were $48,000 and $32,000 from Commerce and Industry.

The money raised during February and throughout the year will go to support heart research, the Heart Association's number one priority, for community service programs like CPR and risk factor screening, as well as for professional education and public education programs.

Employees-Employer banquet is held for DCT

PAHOKEE—Building your working bridge of life is a challenge filled with major and minor cables holding up the structure. That's one of the messages delivered by guest speaker Ms. Lavoise Taylor during the first annual DCT (Diversified Cooperative Training) banquet held Thursday evening.

Ms. Taylor is a marketing consultant for the Urban League of Palm Beach County, who addressed employees and employers of the Pahokee High School DCT program at the Belle Glade Country Club. The program is composed of 23 high school students who attend school half a day and work the other half, at one of 13 businesses who cooperatively employ the students.

Among the points stressed by Ms. Taylor for employee success and acceptance are habits such as appearance, efficiency, dedication and know-how. Important attitudes include professionalism of business-like behavior, courtesy, performance, goals and aggressiveness.

Ms. Taylor told the students they are marketable products which they know the most about. They must sell themselves to become and remain employable.

Several certificates of superior performance were presented by DCT instructor Jeff Heidman to students. Those receiving certificates were: Kathy Hager, Laura Collier, Mia Parris, Kathy Storey, Cheryl Gingery, Wendy Walker and John Nance.

Participating businesses were also recognized with certificates of appreciation, presented by DCT club member Laura Collier. They are: Parkview Bookkeeping Service, P.D.Q. of Canal Point, Foodway of Pahokee, Thriftway of Pahokee, Dr. J.B. Walker, Everglades Memorial Hospital, Lake Shore Press, The Everglades Observer, Association for Retarded Citizens of Belle Glade, Time-saver Food Store of Pahokee, Huggins', Thomas Montgomery Law Office and Eagle Army Navy Store of Pahokee.

Those attending were part of the first DCT banquet of Pahokee High School held in many years. Heidman is working to rebuild the program and will continue to hold annual club banquets.

We all thrill to a...

FAMILIAR TUNE

It is so soothing, comforting, and pleasing to listen to our favorite tunes when played by capable artists. These tunes can make our minds wander back to pleasant memories of days gone by, and also awake us to new joys. Each Sunday we have the opportunity to be thrilled by the preaching of God's word, and the story of God's great love for us. Attend church Sunday and enjoy worshipping God with others.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Sikes pleds guilty to charges

William Sikes, a former Clewiston resident, congressional aide and three-time unsuccessful political candidate, pleaded guilty to grand larceny in Circuit Court Tuesday.

Sikes admitted to Judge James R. Adams that he took funds from a savings account and selling a boat, two cars, guns and household contents from the estate of Ned Richard Hager, while acting as administrator for the estate.

Sikes has been appointed administrator of the estate by Circuit Judge John Shearer on August 3, 1975.

The money was reportedly used to fund Sikes' unsuccessful bid for U.S. Representative against L.A. "Skip" Bafalis, R-Fort Myers Beach, in the 10th Congressional District.

More than $42,000 had been repaid by Sikes' father, Fred Sikes, since an audit revealed the thefts.

Sikes faces a maximum of five years and a minimum of probation. Adams withheld sentencing, pending a pre-sentence investigation, and released Sikes' cash bond. Sikes was employed by Siboney Motor Company of Belle Glade as a salesman.

On the Firing Line With God

By Dan Casselberry
I have been writing about false prophets and cultic religion these last several weeks, and it has been amazing how many persons have called me or spoken to me in person about their own experience in such groups or that of their family and friends, many ask me

"What can I do?"

I have been brought to careful consideration of my own actions by the advice of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, "...Whatever opponents you meet with...have a particular care that they do not take up too much either of your thoughts and time. You have better work: Keep to your one point, Christ dying for us, and living in us..."

This is what the Apostle Paul wrote a young pastor named Timothy. Don't be naive about false doctrine; make sure you guard the truth. But your main job is not to fight the cults; it is to outlive and outlove them. Preach the Word, Timothy and live the life!

All this being true, as a Christian pastor, I still feel I owe some suggestion or guidance to the parents of children who are told they can't leave the domain of their false prophet without a body guard or do anything without asking him first. I owe small children some explanation of why their mothers would say "Every time I think about my son, the Lord beats me" and "I don't ever want to see her again."

What can you do? I am not a lawyer or enforcement officer but allow me to give some important spiritual instructions to those who want to help themselves or others:

(1) Repent of your sins; your lack of faith and obedience toward Christ; (2) Give yourself wholeheartedly to God; (3) Pray that you might not be deceived and that these might be delivered; (4)
Study your Bible, know the Truth that sets men free; (5) Support your church with your faithful giving and attendance; (6) Live and witness for Christ; (7) Let love reign in your heart: do not resort to hatred or violence or gossip; (8) Believe God's promises; receive
His grace and power; (9) Obey
God's Word: heed the whole truth, not isolated passages; (10) Pray about your support of the business enterprises of such groups for to do so you may only continue them in their folly: (11) Encourage persons in the group to come out;

write them, call them, assure them
of your love and prayers for them.
(12) Take every legal action and exert every effort at your disposal to protect the rights of your family and friends, and to block others participation in such groups.
When those who are blinded and deceived regain their sight, they will undoubtedly want to know why you and I did not do more to get them out.

The Lord's love must not be quarrelsome, but kindly to every one; an apt teacher, forbearing, correcting his opponents with gentleness. God may perhaps grant that they will repent and come to know the truth, and they may escape from the snare of the devil, after being captured by him to do his will. (II Timothy 2:16)

Black Gold

Organization sponsoring events such as dances or barbecues which are officially sanctioned by the committee should pay ten percent of their gross income to the city.
The city, in turn, will be asked to donate $3,500 to finance a number of the activities such as fireworks, with the surplus being turned back after the festival is over.

Mayor Altman said he would speak to the other commissioners about the donation and said that he isn't interested in making a profit for the city. Should a lesser amount than ten percent of the gross profits of the organizations sponsoring events be required for the city to break even, such as six percent, then the smaller amount would be assessed.

Another item Altman said he would suggest to the commissioners would be to appoint the present members of the committee on a permanent basis, with vacancies being filled by interested citizens when they occur.

The 20-member committee is made up of the same people who make up the Belle Glade Bicentennial Committee but the Commission has already split the committee because there are distinct differences in interests.

The Bicentennial committee was originally asked, and agreed, to serve as the coordinating body of the city's 50th anniversary celebration but when it was decided to set up an annual festival, it was decided there should be two distinct committees.

Auditorium

several months, he said the proposed health and social services center was also included in the budget.

The $946,000 center is intended to replace the existing mobile home units which first began growing more than four years ago to house
a variety of services on Northwest Tenth Street.

The complex of mobile homes has since expanded to house even more services and Jules Dorn, district director of the State Department of Health and Rehabilitative Services (HRS), said the trailers have proven to be economically unfeasible.

Lewis said in December, when he first announced the center is his number one project for the Glades, the mobile homes, intended in 1974 to fill in as a stopgap measure on a temporary basis, did an adequate job but that was no longer the case.

The representative said another step besides the budget had also been taken when the Department of Rehabilitation had turned over title of the land for the project to HRS.

In the last appropriation for the area, $150,000 for Glades Correctional Institution, Lewis said a major part of the funds would be used to build new mobile home pads for the housing project at GCL.

Lewis also took the opportunity of the Tuesday interview to say he was declaring his intention to run for re-election in his 83rd district.

Lake

agreement reached with the city in which the city turned over title to the marina area. Once the construction is completed, the city will lease the expanded area for one dollar a year.

The District made the agreement in order to get the final non-state owned land on Tory Island so the lake level could be raised.

Still pending in court, however,
is a final decision on what will be done with the land occupied now
by Slim's Fish Camp and J-Mark's, the only two remaining parcels of privately owned land within the Hoover Dike on Lake Okechobee.

The District attempted to buy the two parcels of land, then proceeded with condemnation suits, both of which are being fought in court.

Fred Schiller, head of the District's recreation department, said preliminary plans are also in existence for building a recreation area at Port Mayaca which would include boat ramps both on the lake side and the St. Lucie Canal side of the newly constructed locks
there.

At banquet Saturday night

Christian Day athletes honored

BELLE GLADE—The annual All-Sports banquet was held at the Christian Day School gym last Saturday night in order to honor the year's outstanding athletes. Mr. Norris Thomas, defensive end and Miami Dolphin "Rookie of the Year" was the guest speaker.

The evening turned into an emotional one as Coach Janice Bowser said good-bye to a large part of her softball team of three years. Before she gave the awards, she made several comments. She said that they had been through both good and bad times, and had all stuck together. She also said that though there had been times when if she wasn't ready to quit, they were, they had still pulled together and remained a solid team. Bowser also commented "I wish I could flunk them all so they could return next year," and said they were some of the best girls a coach could ever ask for. All of the graduating seniors received an engraved softball autographed by their teammates.

Receiving the Best Offensive Player trophy for softball was Judy Curtis. The Best Defensive Player award went to Doris Acree, and Jaren Jones, whom Coach Bowser laughingly said had finally completed a full season her senior year, captured the Coach's award trophy. Receiving letters were Doris Acree, Lisa Acree, Rosanna Alvarez, Judy Clayton, Michele Conway, Judy Curtis, Joni Davis, Tammy Reeves, and Gina Williams also received their two-year bars.

Mann, Tammy Reeves, and Gina Williams. Doris Acree, Michele Conway, Judy Curtis, Joni Davis, Tammy Reeves, and Gina Williams also received their two-year bars.

Shelly Shireman received her letter from last year.

Glades Day wins jamboree

BELLE GLADE - It's nice to play back to a spring football jamboree. It's even nicer when the host winds up the clear winner of that jamboree.

And for Glades Day Thursday night, everything went right as they easily ran down LaBelle 6-0 and Moore Haven 12-0 to emerge the clear victor.

Coach Byron Walker had said the jamboree would give a good indication of what the Gators would be like this upcoming season.

It's correct, they're gonna be tough. The first quarter was a battle between Moore Haven and LaBelle and the Terriers walked over the Cowboys 14-3.

And in the second quarter, the Cowboys had to face the Gators. Glades Day won the toss and accepted the ball on their own 40. Utilizing the triple option and the promising talent of quarterback Nacho Bueno, they drove down to the four before Bueno, on a quarterback sneak, dove over for six.

"Nacho was one of our bright spots," said Walker. "We had wondered about the quarterback position and he looks like he can fill it easily."

Another of the offensive sore points, created through graduation, won't be the headache Walker was dreading. He started Billy Sanchez at center and Sanchez did an excellent job. Moreover, Jim Teas amply backs up Sanchez at the position and "will see a lot of action this coming year."

LaBelle accepted the ball following a fruitless try for an extra point but lost it on downs and the Gators had time for one more drive.

Late in the quarter, on fourth down and a yard to go on the LaBelle 35, the Gators failed to get a first and the quarter ended 6-0.

Walker said if he had called another play, he was sure the Gators would have had the first down and perhaps another score, but such is football.

"Our offensive backs all had a good quarter," he said. "Quique Echave did his usual excellent service along with Steve Richie, Winston Byrd and Donnie Courson. Donnie started at fullback and with him along, we'll be able to give Winston some relief from playing both ways."

In the third quarter, LaBelle's Cowboys, weary of losing, turned around and powdered Lake Placid 8-0.

Then it was Glades Day's turn at Moore Haven. The Terrier coach, Lynn Stickford, only had 16 boys dressed out and they gave a good account of themselves, said Walker.

"He's changed up and is running an 'I' formation instead of the wishbone and his defense is better, too," said Walker.

But it wasn't enough. Steve Richie got the first Gator score on a 12-yard run and Echave got the second when he intercepted Terrier pass and ran it back 65 yards.

That made up for the touchdown Echave made against LaBelle 40 yards that was called back on a clip.

"We moved the ball pretty much

GLADES DAY got stopped about five yards from the goal on this play in Thursday night's jamboree game quarter against the LaBelle Cowboys. Their next play proved successful and netted the Gators a 6-0 win over the Cowboys. Photo by Kerry Faunce
